A NOTE FROM EDWARD

I created The Edit because I wanted to work differently.

After years in traditional salon environments, I realized I wanted something quieter, more personal, and more intentional. A place where every appointment feels unrushed and every decision is made with care.

To me, great hair has never been just about technique. It's about listening, understanding your goals, and creating something that truly fits your life. That only happens when there's trust, honesty, and enough time to do things well.

Thank you for choosing The Edit. I know trusting someone new with your hair is a big decision, and I don't take that trust lightly.

YOUR CONSULTATION

The best hair isn't just beautiful. It's hair that works for your real life.

Before touching your hair, I want to know its history, what has worked or not, and your daily needs.

We'll develop a plan tailored to your goals, lifestyle, and hair health.

OUR CONVERSATION

Every appointment begins with a conversation about what matters most to you.

- Your daily routine
- Previous color or chemical services
- Your styling habits
- Your maintenance preferences
- What you love—and what you're ready to change

A FEW THINGS TO KNOW

Great hair takes time. Some transformations happen in one appointment. Others are built over time. The healthiest path isn't always the fastest one.

Hair should feel effortless and refined, never over done.

YOUR LIFESTYLE MATTERS

I won't recommend a style or color that doesn't fit the way you actually live.

Every recommendation is tailored to your routine, your goals, and the amount of time you actually want to spend on your hair.

BEFORE YOUR APPOINTMENT

A little preparation goes a long way. Here's what helps me most:

- ✓ Arrive with clean, dry hair and little to no styling product.
- ✓ Bring inspiration photos—even if they aren't exactly right.
- ✓ Share your hair history, including previous color, chemical services, and anything else that may affect your hair.
- ✓ Allow time for the consultation. It's an important part of your appointment.
- ✓ Running late? Send me a quick text.

*Thank you.
I'm looking forward to meeting you.
